

Knowing roughly which field, ridge, down or wood to look in for the different species of butterflies is one thing, actually seeing them can be quite another !